A short story for the future

Thanks to Heiko

Berlin Airport (the old one) is to be redeveloped for business and houses

An ideal place for trying out new water ideas without much regulation

This is experimentation and niche management

The principles and ideas developed in the experiments will inform the city

Requires technical tools, transition management and a Learning Alliance

A transition for the future

Alison Duffy – a.duffy@abertay.ac.uk
Chris Jefferies – c.jefferies@abertay.ac.uk

Your information is needed in Sections 4 & 5 City Stories

The stories provide direction for implementing strategic niche management.

They are examples of nurturing technological innovations

They show the creation of environments for innovative niches to grow.

Alison will prepare City Transition Stories for 4 cities;

Your information is needed in Section 6 Technical Toolkit Examples

To link the tools to the cities by giving examples in common formats

Chris will prepare City Toolkit Examples based on your information;

Four to 6 pages please by 15th November 2010;

Context, description, technical information, outputs, where to find it.

Chris will edit
